BOY FREED WHILE TRAIN WAITS

A MAIL TRAIN WAS HELD UP for 40 minutes outside Seattle, Wash., while rescue workers, using an acetylene torch, cut away parts of a steel girder and freed Jim Albright, 7. While playing on a bridge span, the lad's head became caught between two steel beams which are being inspected (left) by a doctor. At right, Jim is being helped down by firemen and police following his escape from the trestle. (International)

Children Of Today Hope Of Tomorrow, Speaker Says

"You can't have a better world until we have brought up a better generation," Mrs. Clayborne George, distinguished Cleveland Negro, told members of the Salem Girl Scout council and their guests at a dinner meeting Thursday evening in the Memorial building.

Mrs. George, who serves in an executive capacity on some of the most important civic organizations in the Forest city, used for her subject, "A Job My Size."

"The children are our hope for the future, but the habits and sense of responsibility embodied in our adults are the hope of the present, without which there can be no future," she said.

"Distorted, frustrated, unhappy, insecure," confused parents and teachers, and other adults associated with them, produce distorted, unhappy children," in the opinion of the speaker.

Other thoughts taken from the Cleveland Girl Scout council members' talk are as follows:

"The entire Girl Scout organization is for girls. Through our Girl Scout program we want to help girls to become more adequate, self-reliant, dependable, happier individuals, people who can live creatively, harmoniously, and ably in the world that is being built for them.

"The Girl Scout will become responsible because she has learned responsibility through actual practice. She is given a rightful and appropriate responsibility in carrying through on her ideas. The patrol system of troop organization provides a representative form of troop government; every girl has a chance to speak her ideas and express the things that are important.

"From seven through to 17, the Girl Scout is learning how, by doing, to listen, to delegate jobs, and to have them delegated to her, to be responsible for them, to give recognition to others when due, to wear recognition gracefully, and to be truthful of others as well as to be trusted.

"How rich the Girl Scout program will be with opportunities for creativeness and resourcefulness depends largely on the creativeness and resourcefulness of the leader."

Bus Accident Kills One, Injures Seven

CLEVELAND, May 20—(AP)—A 30-year-old motorist was killed at nearby Moreland Hills last night when he drove his car off the road to avoid hitting a skidding Greyhound bus. Seven bus passengers were hurt.

Dead was Daniel M. Schnit of Cleveland Heights, who was married only four weeks ago.

The bus passengers, none injured seriously, were hurt when the crowded vehicle skidded on a hill, left the road and came to rest against several trees. The bus was bound for Wheeling, W. Va.

Of the injured, only Bessie Dumas, 60, of Warren, O., remained in the hospital. She suffered bruises on her head and left leg.

Others treated were Elizabeth O'Donnell, 60, Cleveland; Elsie Myers, 65, Cleveland; Lucius Powell, 46, Cleveland; Evelyn Waskovich, 25, Cleveland; Joseph Calta, 43, Midland, Pa.; and John Miles, 42, Cleveland.

Police Chief W. J. Busch of Moreland Hills said the state repeatedly had been asked to treat the greasy road surface where the accident occurred.

RAINSTORM HITS HARD IN OHIO AREAS

Youngstown Reports Big Wind; One Garage Blown 75 Feet

Uprooted trees and torn wires littered parts of Ohio today in the wake of a thunderstorm which was responsible for the death of two Ohioans and injury to many others.

Damage in Salem was slight, compared to other points. A medium high wind and heavy rain here tore loose many tree limbs, but no outstanding damage was reported to buildings.

The temperature here dropped from a maximum of 76 degrees during the day to a low of 44 early this morning. At noon today, the mercury stood at 46.

Total precipitation during the storm amounted to 1.21 inches in Salem.

Indirect Deaths

Mrs. Rachel Onel, 63, of Cleveland, was killed as a bannister gave way on a second-story porch when she was attempting to clear a gutter of leaves with a stick. She apparently landed on her head, police said.

In Akron, a three-year-old boy was killed by a truck late yesterday when he tried to cross a street to reach his home before the storm came. Andrew J. Botzman, Jr., was dead on arrival at Children's hospital. He was playing in the street when a gust of wind came and he darted for home.

Winds of tornado force whipped through a residential area in Youngstown last night, injuring one girl and blowing over several garages. Many homes also were damaged.

One garage in the area was lifted into the air and blown over another garage. It crashed against a house 75 feet away. Helen Locke, 13, who was in the home at the time, suffered a cut on her head.

Firemen were put to work spreading tarpaulins over uncovered sections on the damaged roofs of houses. Broken power lines extinguished lights for periods ranging up to several hours.

In Cleveland, a 19-minute rain squall driven by winds with a velocity of 49 miles an hour damaged wires and toppled trees. Momentary gusts up to 70 miles an hour also were recorded.

The storm caused temperatures in Cleveland to plunge 21 degrees within an hour, according to Weather Forecaster C. G. Andrus. The mercury dropped from the day's high of 84 to 63 between 3 p. m. and 4 p. m.

The downpour also contributed to several traffic accidents in which pedestrians were injured. Most seriously hurt was Mrs. Anna Fryer, 30, of Cleveland, who was struck by an auto as she ran against a light to catch a streetcar. She suffered a fractured leg and possible internal injuries.

Salem Polo Club Season Plans Made

Plans have been completed by the Salem Saddle and Polo club for another extensive season of polo games at the N. Ellsworth road field, club officials announced today.

The representatives of the Salem club, together with those from Harbor Hills of Columbus, the Detroit Ivoires, Poland, Darlington and Zenopole, Pa., Springfield, Akron, Toledo and Dayton met recently and outlined the season's activity.

There is a possibility that a team from Cleveland may enter the existing Penn-Ohio league, of which Wilford Smith of Salem is vice-president.

Salem's complete schedule will be announced later, but officials have already made plans for the opening set of games with Columbus Harbor Hills at the Salem field on Sunday and Monday May 29 and 30.

The games over the holiday weekend will begin at 3 p. m. and plans are being made for special opening day ceremonies.

Salem club members held a dinner meeting at the Cape hotel Thursday night, at which plans for the annual barn dance, June 18, were discussed.

Girl, 5, Injured When Struck By Truck Thursday

LISBON, May 20—A jury in the court of Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp returned a verdict for $4,500 late Wednesday in the breach of contract action filed by Michael Turk against Thomas J. Carroll, both of East Liverpool.

The verdict was in favor of Turk as the jury found that the defendant had not fulfilled the contract to build facilities in the administration building at the Shady side airport.

A jury returned a verdict this morning awarding $400 damages to Joseph Markovich of Salem for personal injuries in an assault by Frank Lesick Sr. of Salem.

Markovich had asked for $10,000 for injuries he said he received in an assault outside the Shady side airport on Sept. 12, 1948. He said that Lesick jumped on him, breaking his leg.

Tangle Hits Turnpike Measure; Strip Mining Legislation Is Passed

By ROBERT VINCENT
COLUMBUS, May 20—(INS)—A new parliamentary tangle ensnared Ohio's lawmakers today following senate concurrence in house amendments to the toll turnpike bill.

The senate's 21-0 vote on concurrence apparently precluded any attempt by Rep. Mark McElroy (D) of Cuyahoga to move for reconsideration of the 72-49 vote by which the house passed the bill Wednesday.

McElroy insisted that he has two legislative days — up to Monday night's session — to make his motion. Others held, however, that the senate action blocked his plan because the bill was no longer in possession of the house.

The subject is certain to be bitterly debated if McElroy seeks to move to reconsider at Monday night's session.

Meanwhile, an agreed strip mine bill was passed unanimously by the house of representatives before the lawmakers went home for the weekend.

The vote on the bill was 111-0. An emergency clause to make the bill supplant the present "unworkable" law immediately carried 115-0.

In contrast to the bitter, five-months-long fight over strip mine control two years ago, only 15 minutes were needed by the house for explanations of the 31-page bill. Not one word was spoken against the measure.

The bill places operators who strip 250 tons or more of coal a year to post bond of $190 an acre to guarantee they will:

1. Level spoil banks to a "gently rolling topography";
2. Construct access roads and fire lanes;
3. Construct earth dams to make lakes or ponds in the final cuts, and
4. Plant trees, shrubs, legumes and grasses.

The chief of the new division of reclamation would have power to waive one or all of the provisions in any particular case.

Even those backing the economy move most vigorously predicted privately that Douglas' proposal would be scuttled.

One reason they cited is that the bill carries $722,000,000 for development of rivers and harbors and for flood control projects scattered throughout the country. Dozens of senators are plugging for projects in their own states.

In addition to the Douglas amendment, the senate had before it the now standard proposal sponsored by Republican Senators Ferguson (Mich) and Bridges (N. H.) to cut the bill by five per cent.

They have offered that one on all three money bills passed by the senate so far, and each time the idea was rejected.

The third defeat came late yesterday on the $1,465,000,000 agriculture department bill. The measure passed the senate by a voice vote and went back to the house, which allowed $21,000,000 less.

Before the final action there were two attempts to whittle the senate total. They both failed, by votes of 52 to 32 and 50 to 32.

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—Economy-talking senators bounced back for another try today after suffering three straight defeats in their drive to cut federal spending.

One undaunted Democratic senator in the economy group proposed by far the deepest cut yet—a 39 per cent slash in the army civil functions bill.

Sponsored by Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), the amendment would whack $300,000,000 out of the $751,000,000 measure up for senate debate.

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—Western Germany tonight ratified a constitution uniting 11 states outside the Soviet zone into a federal republic.

The mishap occurred on S. Howard ave. at 7:55 p. m. Thursday. The front of the Rogers car and the rear of Tancer's were damaged.

Tadeas S. Skola of 404 W. Wilson st. braked his car on E. Pershing st. at 1:45 a. m. today and his car, too, swerved right, hitting a utility pole in front of the Famous dairy.

The right front fender and wheel and windshield were damaged.

Two similarly caused accidents resulted in damage to three cars last night, according to the police department.

Margaret L. Rogers of R. D. 2, Salem, told police she applied the brakes of her car and the vehicle swerved to the right, hitting a parked car owned by Frank V. Tancer of 192 W. Pershing st.

SAY 'JOHN L.' DICKERS FOR RETURN TO AFL

WANTS TO GET BACK IN FOLD BEFORE SHOWDOWN ON COAL CONTRACT

By HAROLD W. WARD
CLEVELAND, May 20—(AP)—AFL leaders said today John L. Lewis is dickering to return to the American Federation of Labor.

If he does, he will face strong opposition to any effort to come into power again in the AFL, these influential men predict.

President William Green reported to the AFL executive council on a meeting with Lewis two weeks ago. Green had indicated earlier the session with the mine workers' leader had been devoted principally to the fight over repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

But one top AFL leader said Lewis was anxious to come back to the organization "on any terms" now because of the imminence of his own contract showdown with the soft coal industry July 1. Also, any new labor law enacted in the next two months may carry provisions directed squarely at Lewis, the AFL leader thinks.

Lewis took his 600,000 miners out of the AFL in December 1947, after he lost a convention fight in San Francisco to persuade the federation to boycott the Taft-Hartley act. He has done so himself, but other AFL leaders decided to comply with the act where they had to, including the filing of non-Communist affidavits.

Those who say Lewis is making peace overtures think he wants to become head of the AFL on retirement of 75-year-old Green, a former mine worker who has held the post since 1924.

But members of the AFL executive council who previously were willing to make peace with Lewis say they will fight any new return to power in the federation for the shaggy-haired mine leader.

Although there is considerable rivalry among some council members to succeed Green in the presidency, others will vote to block his retirement at least for another year. That is because they cannot agree on who should step into his place.

Leaves For Big Four Session Determined On German Policy

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson leaves for the Paris foreign ministers conference today pledged to a virtual "no compromise" policy in his dealings with Russia on the future of Germany.

In a pre-departure statement he made clear that his primary concern will be not an east-west agreement on Germany made just for the sake of agreeing. Instead he spoke of a determination to protect the economic recovery and political stability of all western Europe in which Germany plays a vital part.

"We shall neglect no real opportunity for increasing the area of solution and tranquility in the world," Acheson declared. "At the same time, we shall not barter away successes achieved (in western Germany and western Europe) for the sake of promises which might again prove to be illusory as they too often have in the past."

In his last rounds of preparation for the Paris meeting, Acheson was confronted with a new problem: What attitude to take before the world on Russia's apparent bid for a settlement of the Greek civil war? News of the bid was circulated today by the Russian news agency, Tass.

While Tass denied there had been any talks for including the Greek question on the work schedule for Paris, there was an obvious significance to the matter in the whole east-west conflict. Wary caution was the prompt Washington reaction to the Russian proposal.

Leaves At Noon

Acheson's departure today was set for noon. With him in President Truman's big plane, the Independence, he arranged to take Mrs. Acheson, John Foster Dulles, his Republican adviser, and Mrs. Dulles and two assistants, Lucius D. Battle and Robert G. Barnes. The conference will open Monday.

Acheson's statement on his policy approach to the new meeting of the council of foreign ministers was issued here after he had previewed his policies and plans with the senate foreign relations committee. He was said to have received the committee's full bipartisan support.

The Acheson statement was a stern and—diplomats said—a realistic appraisal of the situation with which he will be confronted at Paris when he sits down with the Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

Repeatedly Acheson emphasized his conviction that the primary concern of the United States now must be to stand firmly on its policies "for a world of peace and security" and not be swayed by Russian maneuvers or the possibilities of success in the cold war.

He said that he did not know whether the Paris conference would succeed in producing "workable and effective agreements" between the western powers and the Soviet Union on Germany.

He thought perhaps the opportunity for success would be better in Paris than in the 1947 meetings at Moscow and London. But he added that if failure is to be the result of the Paris session the west can take it.

"We most certainly are now in a better position to deal with the consequences of a failure," he said.

Behind this estimate stood his belief that in the past two years the growing strength and unity of the western powers has given them a stronger hand in world affairs at the same time the Russian position has become relatively weaker.

Turnpike Authority

Ohio's general assembly has disposed of its part of the turnpike issue by passing a bill to create a stated commission with authority to build super-highways in this state.

But the issue of whether or not Ohio will have such a highway linked with the famed Pennsylvania turnpike still has not been settled. It merely has been passed from the hands of the state legislature to the hands of the turnpike commission. The commission, in turn, will pass along the issue to the private investors who must be found to put up the money for this costly undertaking. There is no public money available for it. The proposed turnpike's cost as a public undertaking would be prohibitive.

There is, nevertheless, a demonstrable need for this kind of a facility to handle express traffic. The strongest argument in its favor is the fact that an express highway, by saving valuable time and reducing operating costs for their users, can be treated as an investment proposition. Private capital, if it can be attracted, can go for public convenience what government would be unable to do without radical changes in its concept of public roads. In other words, government cannot recover its investment in highways; a turnpike commission theoretically can recover its investment and at the same time save money for the users of a super-highway.

It remains now to be seen whether or not an Ohio turnpike commission can turn theory into a fact.

For Example

It hasn't been clear why the job of federal conciliation should be independent of the U. S. Department of Labor, the Ford strike says why.

United Auto Workers, the striking union, wants it to appear that federal conciliation is going to be used to bring the Ford Co. to terms. The Ford Co., on its part, would like to have it appear that federal conciliation will apply pressure to the union.

In fact, the director of the Conciliation service, Cyrus Ching, isn't interested in taking sides. He wouldn't be worth his salt if he were. And he wouldn't be worth his salt if he worked for a Department of Labor dominated by the labor union minority, because then he would represent its interests. He no longer would be an umpire but one of the players.

Shades of Billy Mitchell

While the high brass and legislative experts figure out how to clear up the climbing rate of a navy jet plane without ruffling anyone's dignity, a few innocent questions from the taxpayers' gallery may not be out of order.

Why, if it used to be possible for a battleship's armor plates to be tested, to find out whether it could withstand armor-piercing shells, isn't it possible to find out whether one airplane can be intercepted by another airplane?

Isn't all military weapons made in the United States to meet government specifications and paid for with money out of the U. S. Treasury? Is it conceivable to another branch of the armed services?

Is it possible that one branch might have a weapon which it cherished so highly that it wouldn't let another branch take a crack at it to see how good it really is?

The answer to all the questions is yes. In 1925, a disillusioned but fighting mad officer of the Army Air Corps named William Mitchell was court-martialed for insubordination that he could sink a battleship with a bomber. He was suspended from the service for five years and resigned his commission. But even Billy Mitchell was given a chance to prove his point—and in those days unification of the armed services hadn't even been suggested.

Back To The Two-a-Day

New York's Palace Theater, once the Mecca of vaudeville, is going to bring back the two-a-day. The only reasonable guess why this dormant art is being revived would seem to be that vaudeville acts on television have convinced showmen that people again will pay to see those acts in the flesh.

Thus the fear that every new entertainment medium will destroy an existing one seems to be refuted once again. We doubt that television is going to kill anything. We even doubt that vaudeville will kill television.

Right Start, At Least

The new German constitution adopted at Bonn is only a blueprint, though an excellent one, and thus no cause for any extravagant hopes. But there is at least one encouraging thing about it. Someone has noted that it is different in several important respects from the Weimar constitution, under which the pre-Hitler government functioned.

Remembering the frailty and early death of the Weimar Republic, any lack of resemblance between its constitution and the present one almost has to be taken as a good sign.

Candid Opinion

There has been a lot of talk about regimentation, socialism and planned economy in connection with Secretary of Agriculture Brown's proposed farm program. But the head of the American Farm Bureau Federation has a somewhat more practical objection. "The income of American farmers," he says, "should not be made dependent upon annual appropriations from the federal Treasury. No economic group in this country would be willing to stake its future on such a precarious possibility."

We reiterate the views of an honest man who feels that it's the money, not the principle of the thing, that matters.

The Stars Say
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Saturday, May 21

WHILE the energies and ambitions may be keyed to high purpose on this day, yet there may be little encouragement for pressing on to advanced objectives. There are signs of impediments, frustrations and stagnant conditions, and the judgment may not be dependable or constructive. It could be easy to jump at conclusions and in the wrong direction, or other involvement or broken agreements could cause hurts or loss of tangible assets.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find it expedient to put off making vital decisions, or engage in major commitments, as the tendency is toward snap judgments, mistaken ideas of constructive plans to follow, under the urge or drive of ambitious plans, or of highly stimulated energies and desires. Errors, footless projects or ideas could plunge into long-range regrets or disagreements. The ardor may be dampened by broken promises or other lack of support.

A child born on this day while eager and energetic may be prone to rush into difficult situations, by unfair practices, faulty decisions or lack of cooperation from elders or old institutions.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By WALTER KIERNAN

The suggestion has been made that the Republican party change its name . . . Some say it would be enough just to change its mind.

One Democrat suggests the Republicans could re-group under some descriptive slogan like "The Never-wins" or "Appeasance and Taft too."

Meanwhile Mr. Truman is having a little trouble . . . Some members of his "party of the people" in congress are acting just like people.

Harry still says he will pass his idea of a labor bill if it takes him four years to do it . . . and it probably will.

But if it isn't passed then he might get another four years out of his old campaign pledges.

There is only one country where the head man can guarantee legislation and get it and it's not the USA.

Give here a fellow has to look around and see who was elected with him before he can guarantee delivery of anything except the morning mail.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Prolonged Dryness of Mouth

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Dryness of the mouth and lips is not at all uncommon; many people who feel perfectly well experience it from time to time, but usually it does not bring a person to a doctor unless it becomes prolonged and severe.

Middle-aged and elderly women are the most frequent sufferers from this latter type of mouth dryness, scientifically known as xerostomia. In some cases it is so pronounced that the patient is unable to chew and swallow food.

Common Causes

According to Dr. Atterbury, the most common cause to this condition are fever, diabetes, chronic kidney inflammation, long-continued inflammation of the stomach, lack of thyroid secretion, constipation, severe anemia or lack of coloring in the blood, deficiency of vitamins, mumps, or change of life.

There are still other causes, such as X-ray treatments to the lower parts of the face, resulting in the wasting of the glands which form the saliva. Of course, the dryness of the mouth may develop for a short period of time as a result of fear, fright, or anger. Then, too, a little stone may get into the opening of the duct which leads from the salivary glands to the mouth, blocking the secretion of the saliva. Certain drugs, such as atropine, may temporarily stop the formation of saliva.

The theory that dryness of the mouth might result from the use of unlike metals in repairing teeth, thus allowing electrical currents to occur in the mouth, has not been definitely proved. It is more likely that such a state would lead to burning in the mouth rather than dryness.

What is known as a neurosis or form of psychic disturbance may be a factor in causing dry mouth, as well as a burning sensation in the mouth.

It can thus be seen that there are many possible causes of mouth dryness, and it is only with thorough study, including a careful dental examination, that the source of the trouble may be found in the individual case.

Cause of Disturbance

The treatment, of course, will depend upon the cause of the disturbance.

ance. If a drug is causing the trouble, its use should be stopped.

Sometimes a glycerin mouth wash may be helpful in temporarily relieving the dryness. This solution soothes the inflamed lining membrane and stimulates the secretion of saliva.

The use of a drug known as pilocarpine, and drinking alkaline water, also have been found helpful. Chewing gum has been suggested as a means of stimulating the flow of saliva. All of the vitamins, vitamins should be employed in the diet, and thyroid extract administered if there is evidence of thyroid gland disturbance.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

H. G.: My mother, who is fifty-one years old, vomits a great deal. She also has pains in her left side. Could this be due to change of life?

Answer: It is not likely that the symptoms are due to change of life. They may result from a variety of causes, such as disturbances of the stomach, bowel, or gallbladder. A thorough examination should be made, including X-ray studies. When the cause is found, proper treatment may be carried out.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

The Nation
Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Just as regular as Christmas, there comes a time at least once a year to write about lobbyists.

That's when somebody takes a crack at them or wants to suppress them or something. This is one of the times.

Yesterday the house passed a resolution to have a congressional investigation of lobbyists.

Nothing will be done, though, unless the senate also votes for the investigation.

A couple of years ago congress passed a law which said lobbyists had to register with congress.

THIS WAS AN attempt to smoke them out in the open so they could be recognized as lobbyists.

And about 1,500 are registered in the capitol as paid lobbyists. But this doesn't satisfy Rep. Sabath, Illinois Democrat, who has taken as many cracks at lobbyists as anybody.

He says about another 1,500 lobbyists—besides those registered—are running around loose, unregistered and unsmoked out.

But who's a lobbyist? He's any person (or group) who tries to persuade a congressman to vote his way.

There are lots of ways of lobbying: Visiting a congressman in his office, buttonholing him in the hall, having him out to a party, or testifying before a congressional committee.

Sabath says he's not against the regular representatives of organizations who need lobbyists here to get their views across.

But he is against: 1. The undercover lads who lobby without letting it be publicly known—by registering—that they're lobbyists.

2. The ones who get a chunk of dough from some one by pretending they have an "in" and can get things done in congress.

A LOBBYIST COULD be someone paid by manufacturers, or labor unions or landlords, or farmers, to represent them here and plug their case.

Or, as some congressmen have charged it might be someone from a government agency who tries to work his charms on congress to get something the agency wants.

Or, it might be an ex-congressman, who has a client and has come back to work on his old companions in congress.

Can an ex-congressman do that? Sure. Anyone who's ever served in congress can walk out on the floor any time he pleases, no matter how long it's been since he was a congressman himself.

So an ex-congressman turned lobbyist has a head start on any run-of-the-mine lobbyist who can get no nearer the floor than the hall.

Democrats Will Welcome FDR, Jr., As A "Democrat"

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, May 20—(UP)—Top Democrats of house of representatives said today they would welcome Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., into the party ranks when he takes his seat as the newest member of congress. There is speculation that the party soon will put him up for higher office.

Roosevelt gave Tammany hall in New York City an historic trouncing Tuesday after its leaders had refused to let him have the Democratic nomination to run for congress. He was elected as a minor party candidate to the 29th district seat held for 26 years by the late J. Edgar Hoover, a Democrat.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., is a Democrat and a great Democrat," House Majority Leader John W. McCormack, Mass., said to the United Press. "To say that we will welcome him is to use a mild word."

Chairman Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, of the Democratic caucus, said: "If he chooses to serve as a Democrat then we certainly will welcome him."

Democratic Whip Percy Priest, of Tennessee, said: "It would be a great mistake if he were seated as anything but a Democrat. Members of his family have always been Democrats."

In such sturdy language the house Democratic leadership repudiated Tammany's blackball against young Roosevelt. Repudiated along with Tammany were New York state Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick and Sen. J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, who is chairman of the Democratic national committee.

When the chips were down and Tammany was trying to lick Roosevelt, both Fitzpatrick and McGrath endorsed the Tammany candidate. McGrath announced last night that the committee now welcomes Roosevelt to congress "as a loyal supporter of the Democratic party's Fair Deal program." Fitzpatrick also rang in with friendly words for the young man who has damaged Tammany hall so badly the old political wreck probably will have to go into dry dock again.

Roosevelt won a smashing victory. There already is talk here today that the New York Democratic organization will seek to square things with the young man and to use his magic name next year on a higher level of politics.

New York must elect a governor and a senator in 1950. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has not yet said what his political plans are. He is finished as a Republican presidential candidate. If Gov. Dewey wishes to continue as a powerful figure in the Republican party he will have to stay in politics. For him, that means he must continue to run for office.

New York Democrats are looking for someone to oppose Gov. Dewey in 1950 either for governor or senator, whichever he may choose to seek. That is where Franklin, Jr., may come in, although Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York has been widely discussed as the 1950 Democratic candidate for governor.

Alliance To Have Two Negro Teachers

ALLIANCE, May 20—Two Negro graduates of Alliance High school will teach in public schools here next fall. They are the first of their race to be employed in the Alliance school system.

The two young women — Gloria Snodgrass and Virginia Parks — were among 18 teachers the school board hired Wednesday night. Miss Snodgrass will be graduated from Wilberforce, O., university with majors in English and social science, and Miss Parks is completing work at Howard university, Washington, D. C., for a degree in social studies.

The school system here has 177 teachers in 12 grade schools and a high school. There are about 5,000 pupils—1,100 of them in the high school which was established here 75 years ago.

Classroom assignments for the two have not yet been made, but it was believed probable they would teach in the high school.

Supt. Russell E. Schafer, commenting on the precedent-setting move, declared:

"It is discouraging to young people when you tell them to continue their education, assure them that they can be used when it is complete, and then tell them there is no place when they return. I have the utmost confidence in these two young women. They have good scholastic records and I feel they should be given positions."

Schafer said the board approved the two applications unanimously and that no pressure either for or against the hiring was exerted.

OHIO ASSEMBLY TACKLES PRIMARY

Bill To Change System Of Nominations Goes In To Committee

COLUMBUS, May 20.—(AP)—The biennial battle to bring back party pre-primary conventions was shifted to the Ohio house where the going looks tough.

The senate Wednesday approved their return by a vote of 17-10. That was just enough to pass the proposal which has failed in the past 15 or so General Assemblies. Ohio abandoned pre-primary conventions 36 years ago for the direct primary.

The present proposal would allow party state central committees by majority vote to hold pre-primary conventions in Columbus between next Jan. 1-15. The 1950 meetings could decide whether conventions would be held every two years thereafter.

Conventions would recommend candidates for elective state office, U.S. senator and congressman-at-large. The words, "recommended by state convention," would appear under their names on the primary ballot. Other candidates would get on the ballot through the present declaration and petition method.

Would Have Platform
Conventions also would adopt state party platforms and nominate Presidential elector candidates in the years they were picked.

Delegates and alternates to the first conventions would be those elected for 1948 state conventions. Thereafter they would be picked at November elections. They would number not less than 500.

The measure does not provide for district, county or municipal pre-primary conventions. It was sponsored by Sens. Edwin F. Sawicki (D-Cuyahoga), Fred R. Seibert (R-Aglazie) and Evan F. Ford (D-Franklin).

"The open primary system was created to block party primary bosses," Sawicki told the senate. "Experience has proven otherwise. Only a small number vote in the primaries. Party convention members would be better qualified to recommend candidates. It would give greater party responsibility," he asserted.

Sen. Howard M. Metzger (D-Cuyahoga) objected to ballot designations for convention choices. "It takes the campaign card into the voting booth with the voter," he said.

Sen. William H. Daugherty (D-Columbiana) said the direct primary was hailed as a great reform when voted in.

Sawicki pointed to recent endorsement of pre-primary conventions by former Gov. James M. Cox of Dayton and Carl D. Friebohn of Cleveland, a federal bankruptcy referee. Friebohn sponsored the bill to abolish the conventions while a state senator in 1913. Cox was governor then. Sawicki said they and other advocates had changed their minds since then.

Sen. George C. Davies (R-Fulton) spoke against the measure but Sen. Cline Jackson (D-Mahoning) was for it. Jackson said the convention plan would give parties "a chance to get some guidance on candidate selection."

Eight Democrats and nine Republicans voted for the bill. Nine Democrats and one Republican voted "No."

Leetonia Senior Has Unbroken 12 Year Attendance

LEETONIA, May 20.—Joanna Smith, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, 60 Lisbon st., formerly of Washingtonville, was awarded a certificate for perfect attendance for her 12 years in school at the high school Recognition day ceremonies this afternoon.

Joanna attended Washingtonville grade school and entered the seventh grade at Leetonia High school. She will be graduated from Leetonia High school June 1.

Active in the Y-Teens and the Girls Athletic association, she served as secretary of both organizations during her senior year.

For four years, she has been a majorette in the high school band and an alto in the a cappella choir. Serving as Senior editor for the "Tattler," the school paper, she was Y-Teen editor for the annual. She was a member of the cast of the senior play, "We Shock the Family Tree." Joanna has a brother, Glenn, who is a freshman at Leetonia High school.

WASHINGTONVILLE

Mrs. Russell Smith of Leetonia extended hospitality to the members of the Skip-a-Week club Wednesday evening. Cards were played for pastime. Honors were won by Mrs. Gladys DeJane, Shirley DeJane, Mrs. Henry Dermotta and Mrs. Wilbert DeJane. Lunch was served by the hostess. The group will meet with Mrs. Lloyd Berg in two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Detmar Spears and son, Bobby, were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Atkinson.

Pride of the Valley Pythian Sisters met Tuesday evening for their regular meeting and monthly birthday party with 29 members present. The mystery box went to Mrs. Merle Stouffer. Plans were made for a coverdish supper June 14. Mother's day was observed with gifts being presented to the oldest and the youngest mother present. They were Mrs. Oswald Rawhut and Juanita Ward. Lunch was served in the dining room which was decorated with flowers and pastel paper ladies as favors. Bingo was played, with Mrs. Ted Riddle as the winner.

GOVERNMENT SAYS RAIL UNIONS OF INTERFERENCES

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(UP)—The justice department today accused 22 railroad labor unions of trying to "embarrass the government" in its efforts to recover $2,000,000,000 in "over-payments" to the railroads during the war.

In a brief filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the department said the unions had no right to enter the reparations case. It asked the ICC to refuse to let the unions intervene.

The 22 unions, representing about 1,300,000 rail workers, asked the commission last week for permission to get into the reparations fight on the side of the railroads. The commission has not yet decided on their request.

The battle over the alleged wartime overcharges on government freight has been raging for more than two years.

The government claims the railroads collected $2,000,000,000 more than they should have for hauling federal war materials. The justice department has asked the ICC to force the railroads to give the money back.

But the railroads contend they did not over-charge the government during the war. If anything, they contend, the government got cheaper freight rates than private shippers.

The railroads unions claim that wide-spread unemployment will result if the railroads are forced to repay the alleged over charges.

The justice department, in its brief, termed the union's arguments "hypothetical." It said there was no evidence that unemployment would result. It felt the unions only wanted to get into the case to prolong the hearings and "obstruct and embarrass the government in its efforts to recover for the benefit of all the taxpayers the over-payments made to the railroads."

REV. H. L. OGDEN INSTALLED; FOUR CLASSMATES AID

Rev. H. L. Ogden was installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening in an impressive service in the church sanctuary.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Ogden's brother-in-law, Rev. Robert F. Montgomery of the Scarborough, N. Y., Presbyterian church. Rev. Montgomery declared that the church stands at the crossroads today. Down one road is to be found the conviction that Jesus was a great man, the greatest man that ever lived, but still a man, he said. On the other road is found the conviction that Jesus is God come into history in the form of a servant," he added.

Which Road

"Which road shall we take? It is only from within experience that the deity of Christ can be understood," he said.

"To expect a person who never prays, studies the Bible, or goes to church to believe in Christ as 'God's divine gift to man' is absurd," he asserted, adding, "You cannot come to a knowledge of who this Christ really is, except from the life of discipleship."

Rev. Ogden's Princeton classmates, Rev. Gerald R. Johnson, of Westminster church, Toledo, in his charge to the pastor, reminded him not to be too busy or in too big a hurry, and to remember his occupation and to remember Christ's church.

In the charge to the congregation, Rev. Harold Kaser of the Canfield Presbyterian church asked that the congregation be a servant of the servant (the pastor) of Christ.

Rev. M. J. Tomasula, of the Youngstown Slovak Presbyterian church, moderator of Mahoning Presbytery, presided at the service. Rev. Llewellyn G. Kemmerle, of Westerville First Presbyterian church, was the fourth Princeton classmate of Rev. Ogden who assisted with the service.

A reception was held in the chapel.

MENTAL

are being partially used as homes for the aged instead of being solely used as hospitals where patients who are mentally ill can be received, treated and cured.

"The commitment of so many aged persons to our state hospitals has overcrowded these institutions," Lamneck said, "and has prevented the professional staff from giving adequate treatment to those who could be helped."

"In many instances, many patients have become permanent wards of the state who could have been cured and released if overcrowding had not existed."

Dr. Baker said release of aged persons found to have no psychosis often is an insoluble problem.

"We can't just kick them out," the mental hygiene commissioner declared. "In many cases, sons and daughters, or other relatives, simply aren't interested, and these people have no place to go."

Director Lamneck's announcement came as a result of an investigation of the lengthy detention of mental patients in Cuyahoga county jail pending admission to overcrowded Cleveland state hospital.

Lamneck ordered 40 such patients who had been held there more than 30 days transferred to state hospitals outside the Cleveland area. Pending completion of additional facilities now under construction, Lamneck asked probate courts not to commit to any mental hospital any person over 70 who does not have a definite psychosis "other than senility and who is not dangerous and who needs custodial care only."

Twenty-Two Teams Entered In Class A Meet

Saturday Meet At Reilly Will Include 321 Athletes; Allen's Record Is Oldest

With a definite entry of 22 schools, with one more expected, everything is set for the annual Northeastern Ohio district track and field meet here Saturday, except the weather.

With good breaks received for the Night Relays, county meet and district B affair, it is likely that Meet Manager Fred Cope's luck will hold one more day, thus solving the final problem.

To date the following schools have submitted entry lists:

Salem, Akron Buchtel, East Garfield, St. Mary's, North and South, Barberton, Boardman, Canton McKinley and Lehigh, Cuyahoga Falls, Girard, Louisville, East Palestine, Mentor, Struthers, Youngstown Rayen and Fitch, Warren, Ravenna and Campbell Memorial. Cope expected to receive the Niles entry today.

The 22 teams are sending 321 athletes to Reilly stadium Saturday. East Palestine's delegation is the largest yet entered.

The 1948 district meet, won by Canton McKinley, resulted in the breaking of three and tying of one other of the meet's records. The district marks will compare favorably with any in the state.

The oldest mark on the books is held by Lowell "Rib" Allen of Salem, who pole vaulted 13 feet, 1 1/4 inches in 1922. The next is the high jump mark set by O'Rourke of Warren in 1938 at 6 feet, 3 3/16 inches.

Both half mile and mile relay records are still held by the great Massillon team of football players who romped through the meet in 1940. With a team of only six men, Massillon placed second in the meet and set three marks, one of which was eclipsed in 1948. That was Horace Giffon's low hurdle record, snapped by Simmons of Akron East last spring.

RED ROLFE DOING JOB AS MANAGER OF THOSE TIGERS

Springing Surprises And Victories; Doby's Long Homer May Be Record

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Red Rolfe is winning his spurs as a successful big league manager at Detroit.

The ex-New York Yankee third baseman who never managed any team, except Yale university, until this spring, has his Tigers in second place, only two games behind the leading Yankees.

Washington, Cincinnati and the Chicago White Sox have been stealing the big black print in the newspapers, but Detroit rates high among the surprise teams of 1949.

They laughed at Rolfe last March in Lakeland (Fla.) when he said he was taking dead aim at the American league pennant.

Everybody nodded politely, grinned and said, "They'll be lucky to beat out the Philadelphia A's to get in the first division."

Despite a decided weakness at first and second base, Rolfe maneuvered the Tigers into a contending position on the hitting of George Kell, Vic Wertz and Rookie Johnny Groth. Then he plugged the second base hole by acquiring Don Kolloway from the White Sox. Recently he benched George Vico and started playing Paul Campbell at first.

Rolfe set up a pitching "big four" of Hal Newhouse (4-2), Virgil Trucks (5-1), Ted Gay (3-1) and Freddie Hutchinson (2-2).

Hutchinson, who turned back Washington with seven hits yesterday, 10-1, is as handy with the bat as he is on the mound. Hutch drove in three runs with a single, double and triple in the attack that hung loss No. 3 on Rae Scarborough. Not even three hits by First Baseman Eddie Robinson could save Washington.

Detroit picked up a full game on the first place Yanks, who were dropped by Cleveland, 3-2, on a terrific slugging display by Larry Doby. The Indians' Negro outfielder smashed a 450-foot-plus homer—said by veteran observers to be the longest ever hit in the Yankee stadium—as Steve Gromek shaded Bob Peterfield.

Doby's blast in the second inning cleared the 20-foot bleacher wall and landed in the seventh row of the center field bleachers. Later he hit a single with the bases loaded in the fifth to break a 1-1 tie.

A jittery defense cost the Boston Red Sox a 10-inning game on an error by first baseman Billy Hitchcock on Vern Stephens' throw. The Red Sox made four errors in the game but Hitchcock's was the big one that gave Chicago a 7-6 margin.

The Philadelphia A's and St. Louis Browns were not scheduled and a National league game between the Phillies and Chicago Cubs was postponed because of threatening weather at Wrigley field.

The Boston Braves and New York Giants, tied for first place in the National for an entire week, remain deadlocked. The Braves came up with two in the ninth to top Pittsburgh, 3-2, and the Giants bumped off Cincinnati, 6-2.

Vern Bickford won his own game at Pittsburgh with a ninth-inning single scoring Phil Masi to climax the two-run uprising.

Sheldon Jones picked up his fifth victory for the Giants, although nicknamed for 13 Cincinnati hits, Johnny Mize's ninth homer and a two-run double by Walker Cooper sent Johnny Vander Meer down for his third loss.

Brooklyn, sizzling through the west with three straight victories, moved into a third-place tie with Cincinnati on Preacher Roe's 2-0 shutout of St. Louis. It was the Cards' third loss in a row since returning home.

Stan Musial pocketed a $500 check and accepted the Hillerich Memorial award for winning the National league batting title last year. Then he broke out of his slump with three hits in four trips.

New York (Sunnyside garden)—Tommy Engelhardt, 153, New York, outpoured Vince Mazac, 153 1/2, Seymour, Tex. 8.

Salem Junior Legion Team Opens Season

The Salem Junior American Legion baseball team, which opens its season tonight at Columbiana, has high hopes this season for active participation in district and state competition.

The hard-ballerers are starting out on a rigorous schedule, playing twice each week in addition to two practice sessions. Regular games will be played Wednesday and Sundays.

In county games the Legionnaires will tangle with Lisbon and Columbiana.

A roster of 20 players is to be narrowed down to 16 players by June 25 to conform to rules and regulations.

The tentative lineup for tonight's game at Columbiana puts Robert Theiss on the mound for the Salem boys, with Leo Kline catching. Don Abrams, Robert Coy and Gene Dean will be at first, second and third base, respectively, while outfielders will include Carl Stoudt, Richard Brautigam and Gordon Birkhimer.

The regular first baseman, George Crawford, suffered an ankle injury at practice this week. Other injuries include Glen Brudery, Don Wank and M. R. Oesch.

The Salem Junior Legionnaires are managed by Chet Brautigam and Cornelius Csepke. A. V. Combs is business manager with Matt Klein in a sponsor role.

Althouse Slates Massillon Sunday

Althouse Dodge after losing its opening game to Hoovers 5 to 4, will attempt to gain the first win of the season at the expense of the Massillon Carver Cigars on the Piacenta field at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

This year's Carver team is an all star team made up of players from the three top teams in last year's Massillon Class "A" league.

The leading hitters of the team are John Sedjo, r. f., who hit 376, Andy Byelene, c. f., 338, and Gene Leninger, first base, 316, in the Massillon class A league last season.

Bussey with a last year's record of nine wins, three losses or six games with a 19 and two record will do the pitching for Carvers.

Haidet or Craig will be on the mound for Althouse with Brown doing the relieving.

Add To Hall Of Fame
COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—They're going to make more room for baseball immortals in the game's hall of fame here. Work will begin shortly on a three-story addition that will nearly double the size of the building in which 58 diamond greats already are enshrined.

PICTURE CHANGED AS TRIBE RETURNS TO FENWAY PARK

Battling For Sixth Place, Stirs On Bench, Feller May Seek Vacation

BOSTON, May 20 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians returned to Fenway park today for the first time since the 1948 pennant playoff game, but the picture somehow looked different.

Instead of playing for first place, the Indians were opening a two-game series with the Red Sox to determine sixth place. Joe Gordon was temporarily riding the bench for "pressing." The batting order has been revamped.

And Bob Feller was worried. Feller came right out with it to a reporter after yesterday's 3-2 Indian victory over the Yankees that ended a five-game losing streak. Talking about his ailing back, Feller said:

"I rested it for 10 days. I think now I should have waited another 10 days before I resumed pitching. If after my next game I don't feel right, I'm going to request a two-week rest—a sort of vacation from the game."

"I'll get away from the ball park, go off fishing somewhere, and give my back a complete rest. I think not only I will benefit but the club as a whole will be better off."

Feller scoffed at the reports he is "washed up."

Even with few of the older stars on the bench, Manager Lou Boudreau could find consolation in what is agreed was the longest home run ever hit in Yankee stadium.

Larry Doby, was the author. He slugged it in the second inning of yesterday's game, 450 feet into the center field bleachers.

New York baseball writers insist it topped anything ever swatted by Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Bill Dickey, Joe DiMaggio, Jimmy Foss and Hank Greenberg.

Doby drove in Cleveland's other two runs, too. His grounder between first and second in the fifth inning with the bases loaded scored Thurman Tucker and Dale Mitchell.

RULING AGAINST BOATS EXPLAINED

The Ohio Conservation and Natural Resources commission last week voted to retain the present regulation which prohibits the use of outboard motors on nearby Gulfport lake.

The action followed a public hearing where both those for and against the use of motors on the lake presented testimony and petitions to the commission.

The hearing was held as a result of a request that Guilford be opened to the use of motors, made some time ago by a delegation from Columbiana county. The majority of those present at the hearing were against opening the lake to motors.

Commission chairman, Louis Bromfield, pointed out to the 40 persons attending that the commission's action, after hearing arguments from both sides, would follow the usual policy of satisfying the wishes of the greater number of people involved but at the same time conform with the best interests of fish and game conservation and restoration.

Those opposing motors claimed the 380-horse power is too small and narrow to warrant the use of motors and yet satisfy the best interests of safety for swimmers, fishermen and vacationing crowds seeking the peace and quiet now afforded by the lake without motors.

Those favoring permission to use motors argued that the lake was originally built for recreational purposes and therefore those who seek the pleasures of motoring should be given consideration.

The commission's action to continue the present rule prohibiting motors was based on the fact that there is not sufficient cause for allowing motors compared to the objections.

There is a ban on the use of motors on most of the state's recently constructed, fishing lakes primarily because the size of the waters in most cases is such that motors are not considered necessary and also because the lakes are fishing lakes and the fishermen's wishes are given first consideration.

RISK NECKS THIS WEEKEND FOR SPOT IN BIG CAR RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, May 20 (AP)—There'll be a premium on neck-risks at the Indianapolis motor speedway this week-end.

Thirteen starting spots are left for the Memorial day 500-mile race. Forty-four entries—all but eight of them on the grounds—are left to scramble for the remainder.

Time trials tomorrow and Sunday shape up as a driving match between a dozen big car veterans and six or seven youngsters from the hot rod and midget circuits. One more chance to fill a vacancy, or bump a slower-qualifying car, will be given May 28.

Four drivers already qualified at less than 126 miles an hour may not be able to stick. They are Doc Williams, Wyandotte, Mich.; Bill Cantrell, Louisville; Henry Banks, Compton, Calif., and Ralph Pratt, Detroit.

Freshmen likely to take the 10-mile qualifying run this week-end include Johnny McDowell, Los Angeles in the Indings special driven to sixth place by Lee Wallard last year. George Fonder, Lansdale, Pa., may go in the late George Robson's 1946 winner.

Troy Ruttman, 22, Ontario, Calif., has shown enough practice speed in the Cater special to be a good bet to qualify.

Other first-timers ready to run include Tommy Mattson, Los Angeles, in the Sheffer Offenhauser special; Jackie Holmes, Indianapolis, in the Pat Clancy six-wheeler; Jim Rathman, Los Angeles, in a Graner special, and Kenny Eaton, Lewisville, Ind., in the new Boes Seal Fast "Four."

Chet Miller, Glendale, Calif., heads the veterans with the late Ted Horn's Masterati, biggest money-winning car ever at the speedway. This will be Miller's 15th Memorial day race.

After graduation comes opportunity!

The approach of Commencement Day 1949, brings many high school seniors face to face with a big question—what next? There's one big opportunity to which every high school graduate should give serious consideration. This is the career offered you in today's Regular Army.

Few openings in private enterprise offer you the leadership training, the educational advantages, the supervised sports and recreation programs and the clear, wholesome, active life that can be yours with an Army enlistment.

Few openings offer you such comradeship with America's finest young men—for today only the best are acceptable for service in the United States Army.

To win a place in today's Regular Army you must pass physical examinations that are tougher—mental examinations more difficult—than ever before.

And with these more rigid requirements you will face keen all-round competition for assignment to the more than 200 courses offered at Army technical and specialty schools.

The rewards are also greater—opportunity for advancement is limited only by your ability and initiative. Many of today's general officers began their careers as Privates. Some of today's Privates may be our future Generals!

Appointments to Officer's Candidate Schools and to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point are available to those who can make the grade. In what other field can you aspire so high?

You owe it to yourself to get all the facts. See the friendly recruiting officer at your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station today. He will be happy to give you full details without any obligation to you.

Rain Waits Until Ya Wash The Car-Ask Cope!

What's that old gag about it raining every time you wash the car?

Fred Cope might be interested in hearing all about it.

He suffered a similar situation yesterday.

Complaints about the dust from the Reilly track, together with the fact that the hardened surface wasn't just ideal for running, brought Fred into action Thursday afternoon.

To make things rosy for the Class A district meet, Fred assembled 22 high school boys yesterday afternoon and preceded to wet down the track—with care and great diligence.

Yes, the rain held off until they had finished the job.

Oho's Pen Nearly Full; Better Be Good, Warden Warns

COLUMBUS, May 20—(UP)—Ohio's 100-year-old penitentiary can accommodate just a few more prisoners, Warden Ralph Alvis warned today.

The population of the penitentiary yesterday stood at 4,314, a net gain of 80 for the first half of May and 212 more than on the last day of last year.

County sheriffs brought 106 prisoners to the prison between May 1 and last Saturday night. Fifteen more were received Monday and Tuesday.

Warden Alvis said he could squeeze in 68 more prisoners—and no more.

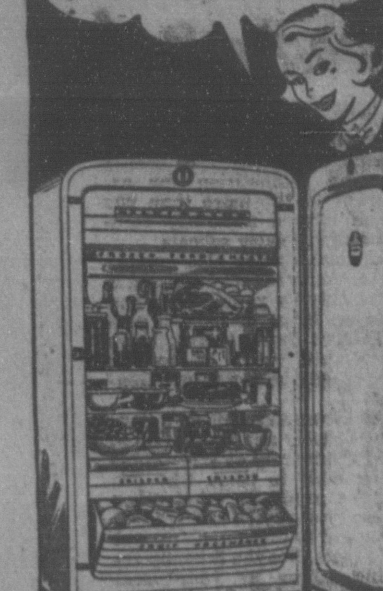

The population of the Mansfield reformatory, meanwhile, stood at 2,292 as last week ended—a gain of 213 this year.

London prison farm's population stood at 1,757 as last week ended. That was only 10 more than at the close of 1948, but farm officials warned transfer of additional prisoners to the farm would mean lowering the standard for selecting prisoners for transfer and creation of an idleness problem.

London is used to house the "better type prisoner" only. Its facilities are for the retention and care of that type only.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—More men than women are giving themselves a change of pace today by getting themselves a change of face.

They got a new outlook on life by going to a plastic surgeon to have an objectionable facial feature removed.

"Since the war we have more men than women patients," said Dr. Gregory L. Pollock, a pioneer specialist in this form of human sculpture.

In the last 30 years he has operated on some 5,000 persons. Among them were the widow of a U. S. President—she had her face lifted—and scores of society, theatrical and movie celebrities.

Dr. Pollock is something of a Broadway notable himself. He went from bookkeeping to bobbing. As a youth, before he went to medical school to learn the art of how to bob noses, ears and bosoms, he worked as an entertainment booking agent. Many of his old clients later became his patients.

three decades. At present it is a mushrooming branch of medicine, allied in some ways to psychiatry.

"When I began there were only a handful in the field," recalled Dr. Pollock. "Now there are more plastic surgeons than you can count."

"It used to be a hush-hush matter, done in strictest privacy. People were ashamed to admit they wanted to try to improve on the fact that their parents—or life—had given them."

"Today they want to brag about it. They even throw cocktail parties to unveil their new nose."

And the patients are no longer merely the idle wealthy, seeking to hide the traces of age. Most are working people.

"Plastic surgery isn't a foolish luxury," said Dr. Pollock. "In an overwhelming number of cases it is an economic investment. It isn't just vanity that impels them to want their faces changed."

"Lawyers, entertainers, school-teachers, beauty parlor operators, salesgirls, waitresses—any people who meet the public—find their incomes suffer from facial disfigurements. So they have them removed."

"The improvement of their features also helps them in personality ways. They lose lifelong feelings of inferiority and regain self-confidence."

The feature most people find fault with about their anatomy is the nose. Then come the ears—too much like Peter Rabbit or a pair of swinging doors. And then, in order, are wrinkles, over-sized bosoms and weak chins.

PARAFFIN was abandoned years ago as a substance stuffing to iron out wrinkles. Doctors found it tended to melt and collect in lumps beneath the skin, and it was an incipient agent of malignant growths.

One of the great developments in plastic surgery has been the creation of cartilage banks.

"With cartilage we can take a patient worried over his receding chin and make him look like a bulldog if he wants to," smiled Dr. Pollock.

Plastic surgeons now operate on babies two days old (cleft palate) or women and men past three scores and ten (wrinkles that rattle).

One of their problems is to turn down people who come to them with imaginary facial defects. Dr. Pollock rejected an 81-year-old woman who wanted her face lifted. Her age made the operation too risky for any benefits she would gain.

One of his oddest callers, was a handsome young man who came to him shortly after the death of Lon Chaney, the movie "horror man."

"He had a suitcase stuffed with hundreds of Chaney's pictures," said Dr. Pollock. "He wanted me to operate on him so he would look like a composite of Chaney in all his grotesque roles.

"I threw him out. Then I threw out his suitcase."

Hand-Fed Car Motor Runs - For Awhile

MADERA, Cal.—A makeshift gasoline engine which promised to be a smashing success on the first 100 yards of its trial run, ended in a thunderous failure for Manuel Verdusco and an unidentified companion.

The boys were motoring through a small country road in their antiquated automobile when the gas tank fell off. Verdusco got a one-gallon can of gas at a service station. Then he sat on the fender pouring gasoline into the carburetor while his friend drove the machine.

The novel idea worked for about the length of a football field when the car blew up. Both boys were treated at a hospital for minor burns.

Wife Too Rough

CHICAGO—Fred Triebolin, 46, told the court his wife, Rose, 58, wrote his nasty notes, hit him with a blackjack, kicked him and chased him around their home with a pair of scissors. His request for a divorce was granted.

NEW TEST TUBE
FIBRE RESISTS
BUGS AND ROT

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
WILMINGTON, Del., May 20—(AP) You get silk from silkworms, wool from sheep; but what makes stuff that the bugs won't eat? The answer is in a new test tube at the Dupont company. It produces a new kind of fiber, called orlon, which bugs of all kinds, from fungi, insects and bacteria up to visible insects, eat to a lesser extent than any fiber grown by nature. This tube is also a combined silk-wool and sheep, for it makes this same fiber, according to the chemist's choice, either like silk or like wool. Orlon is Dupont's latest venture in chemical clothes, at a cost said unofficially to be about $30,000,000. This new textile is not expected to be on the market before the end of 1950. A plant to synthesize the fiber is starting construction this year at Camden, S. C. Dupont men say this new fiber is the most silk-like of all synthetic textiles thus far produced. They rate it ahead of nylon in silky quality. They say also it is the most wool-like of any synthetic textiles made so far. The two kinds of orlon neither look nor feel alike. The silky kind shines like satin and feels so smooth. The wooly kind is very fine white threads that crinkle and feel soft. Depends On Process What kind the test tube produces depends on how it is spun and on a number of chemical processes that began developing early in the war. It is made from a synthetic substance called an acrylonitrile. The raw materials for producing it are acrylonitrile, natural gas, limestone, acetylene gas, petroleum and ethylene. The military forces were interested because textiles made from this stuff not only resist bugs, but they stand sunlight better than other fibers. They also stand acids and other chemicals that destroy most fabrics. Moisture and heat have little effect. Dupont was one of several companies making military experiments with this material. After the war the Wilmington company developed the fiber they named orlon for clothing, for household uses and for industry. The present fiber is virtually three in one. One field is for suits of clothes, lingerie, dress shirts and sport shirts, linings, washable dresses and uniforms, bathing suits and rainwear. A quite different field is awnings and curtains. The woven orlon awning materials are stiff as canvas. Drapes range from heavy to light and silky curtains. There are orlon sails for yachts. It also makes auto tops.
